TESTIMONIALS

"I saw Paul speak tonight and he was superb. He clearly knows his stuff inside out and I would recommend him unreservedly based on my personal experience of how he delivers his knowledge."

Rory Murray | Delivery, Operations & Strategy Specialist (EMEA) | National Grid

"Just wanted to say how much I enjoyed your session last week and to compliment you on your excellent facilitation. It demonstrated what I have sometimes thought but found hard to articulate – it is the space between words that actually creates meaning – not the 'absolute' meaning of a word. Letting us roam freely and then having the dexterity to bring back some focus was truly admirable. Difficult concept to sell of course – most business managers would roll their eyes, but in fact would all benefit from just such musing, from time to time."

Karen Maxwell | Leadership & OD Consultant | KMC Ltd

"His message has clarity. Paul takes a very no-nonsense approach and explains complex ideas with ease. His talks inspire and invigorate the audience, encouraging L&D towards accuracy, transparency and true collaboration."

Samina Anwar, Head of Learning & Development Programmes

"Many thanks for presenting such an interesting and thoughtful webinar. We had positive comments and questions coming in throughout the session, and it was clear that everyone was fully engaged."

Rod Jones, Content Manager at The Institute of Leadership and Management

"Paul is an excellent speaker. He carries a powerful message and dedicates his work to encourage individuals and organisations to drill down into the detail; establishing whether learning in the organisation, has indeed taken place and worked!"

"Very practical application of learning techniques and theories. Paul is very engaging, he speaks with knowledge, expertise and clarity."

"Having been able to see Paul speak at events and conferences such as Learning Technologies and the Charity Learning Consortium I can confirm that Paul has a unique ability to challenge the norm and to change the mindset of learning and development professionals. He suggests ways in which the profession can really drive success in business through a coherent strategy."

Matt Davis, OD Advisor at University of Liverpool

"Great presentation. Really interactive which answered specific 'slightly' off topic questions. Engaging presenter. Really opens up thinking about what else we need to do around current teams agenda."

"He is evidently a very intelligent man and has thought about it. His talk made sense, backed by a lot of research and was really good - unlike a lot of the other snake oil presentations I saw"

"A good mix of real-world application and the research that supports the approach."

"A very engaging presentation with insightful expertise. Thanks Paul!"

"Amazingly insightful session! The elephant and donkey analogies were so relevant."

"Enjoyed this session. Informative and entertaining. It left me with lots to think about..."

"Get Paul Matthews for more presentations. He was EXCELLENT!! Provided information we need to be able to explain to our stakeholders before embarking on any training plan development."

"I enjoyed this a lot and found some great takeaways. I think Paul has a lot of knowledge and research to share and I would like to hear more from him."

"I loved this presentation! This was the most valuable presentation I've seen during Peak 18 and I intend to look into reading the books. Thank you!!!"

"Love the visuals and the content spoke to me."

"Paul is a class act, always talks sense and articulates in a simple understandable way."

"The old elephant in the room still haunts us. I like how Paul led off with that familiar symbolism. Brings everything together for me."
